BIRD IN HAND

Bird in Hand acknowledges the people of Peramangk Land and Paredarereme Land on which it stands and recognises their connection to culture, community, and Country.

We support the Uluru Statement from the heart and its three key components – voice, treaty, and truth.

A vast field of golden wheat stretches to the horizon under a cloudy sky. A lone tree stands on the horizon line. The word "BUSH" is written in large, white, serif capital letters across the center of the field.

After being harvested in the cool of the morning, the fruit was destemmed and partially crushed directly into small open fermenters. Pinot Nero Rosé

Minimal skin contact before pressing has resulted in a translucent, pale salmon-pink coloured wine. Cool fermentation of each grape parcel has maintained the fresh, lively characters of the Pinot Noir fruit in a delicate, smooth and fresh style. Varietal aromas include lifted strawberries and cherry blossom. Red fruit flavours on the palate are enhanced by crisp acid and a long, clean finish

Nero D'Avola

Fermented in small open tanks, each vessel is pumped over twice daily for 7 days to maximise flavour and tannin extraction. This medium bodied red wine has a spicy tannin profile and an elegant structure leading to long, lingering flavours on the finish. This wine is intensely fragrant with aromas of red cherry, red currant, rosewater and a hint of peppermint.

Montepulciano

Destemmed in the vineyard, the grapes were then partially crushed into a small open fermenter, with some berries left whole for additional character. This process results in deep coloured wine, with vibrant purple hues. On the nose, this wine shows notes of blackberry, aniseed and a touch of mocha. On the palate, the wine is supple and full-bodied, with generous fruit weight and flavour.
